

2009, a new year.

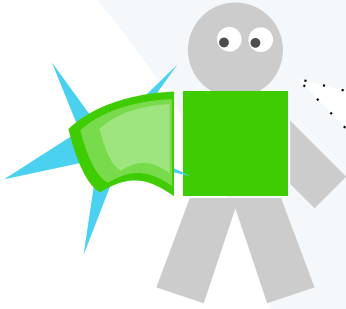

What can I do to improve things for myself and others?

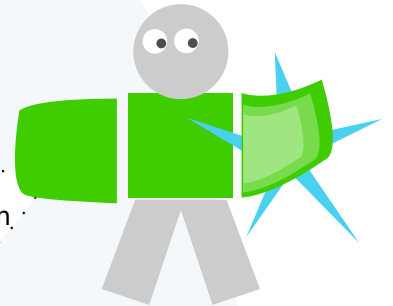

Maybe I can join those who work for freedom in the digital era

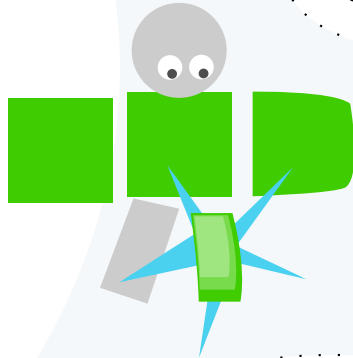

...contribute with my own hands and resources to Free Software and its values

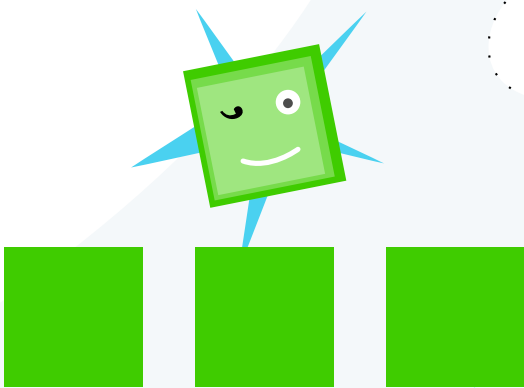

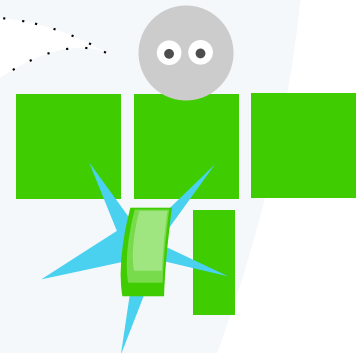

...become part of a community of volunteers working for freedom and individual control of data and software

... walk with them, for a world of social justice, freedom and democracy

...and participate directly into the organisation and its campaigns if I want to.

I can do all that by joining the FSFE Fellowship, or helping a friend to join.

Join FSFE's Fellowship today.
Empower yourself and help others,
towards freedom in the digital age.
